Miles resigned as pastor early nuary. It was understood then that he would take a special course at Richmond College, and while he attended several lectures, he took no especial interest in his studies and months ago he left here for Tennessee. The former Mrs. Brown was a member of his church. Brown informed a reporter for The Times-Dispatch last night that she had expressed a strong desire to go into the foreign missionary fields. "I told her that if she cally wanted to go." said Brown, "that strings, and that it would be advisable to first secure a divorce. The decree was granted, and I have received telegram from her saying that the wedding took place in Knoxville on Thursday and that she had mailed me copy of the certificate. It has not

Divorce Matter Not Clear. While the case has caused the most profound sensation in South Richmond. there are certain details which are lacking and some features which the friends of Mr. Miles cannot understand. The question, for instance, as to when and by whom the divorce was granted, was not made clear last night. Brown saying that it was secured at the Richmond City Hall. were married on Thursday."
He was not inclined to discuss the matter, and at first resented the at-tempt to get from him verification of these reports, which have excited South Richmond for the past few days.

Woman is Handsome.

Several Baptist ministers in the city said that they had heard of the Miles wedding, though they had no information which they could regard as authentic. Miles, who is not more than twenty-eight years old, came here years ago from Birmingham, Ala., where he was assistant to Dr. A. Dickinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Birmingham. During his brief service at Immanuel early this year he made an excellent impresing him as the regular pastor.
